This competency based series of courses provides students with the technical instruction and practical experience for aspiring video production assistants in the pre-production, production, and post-production phases of TV and video creation. It focuses on the use of camera, sound and lighting equipment, and studio and field production techniques. The courses also explore the creation of documentaries, social media content, business promotional videos, web-series, wedding videos, and corporate videos. The course also includes the basics of job shadowing, internships and job placement.

The competencies in these courses are aligned with the California High School Academic Content Standards and the California Career Technical Education Model Curriculum Standards.

U.S. Department of Labor Job Outlook:

Employment of film and video editors is projected to grow 18 percent from 2014 to 2024, much faster than the average for all occupations.

Los Angeles Unified School District / Division of Adult and Career Education. All educational and vocational opportunities are available without regard to race, color, national origin, sex or disability. A lack of English language skills will not be a barrier to admission and participation in educational and vocational programs. Classes failing to meet the minimum class size will be closed according to Division policy
